NEGOTIATIONS FOR PURCHASE OF WATER PLANT ARE OPENED

At a joint meeting of the members of the City Commission, officials of the Xenia Water company and members of a committee on water supply appointed by the Business Men's association, held at the city building Thursday evening, the ground work was laid for negotiations which are expected to bring about the purchase of the Water Company's plant by the city of Xenia. It was a most harmonious meeting in every respect and a full and free discussion of the water supply situation in Xenia was indulged in by several of the men present. While no definite action was taken at the meeting it was the consensus of opinion that a good start was made in an informal way at this meeting toward the acquiring of the water plant by the city. It seemed to be the opinion of all present that it is advisable for the city to own the water plant, but the task of figuring out a method by which the city may buy the plant is yet unaccomplished.

The Water Company represented by its president, Hon. George Little, laid its cards on the table in plain view of the public at the Thursday evening meeting, making a proposition to the city, which gives the city the option of buying the plant at the figure set by the company as its rock bottom price or of having the price set by three engineers, one named by the city, one by the Water company and the third chosen by these two, both the city and the Water company to put up forfeiture bonds of $5,000 to guarantee that the agreement be carried out, after the engineers fix the price.

The cash price named by the Water Company is under both the estimated valuations placed on the plant by the company's engineer and the special engineer employed by the city some months ago. It is $290,000 which carries with it a cancellation of all back water bills against the city and the public amounting to $34,784.60. The exact proposition is as follows:

"We will take $290,000 for the property, which means that all the debts, etc., which are now against the property and which have been incurred, as I have said before, in trying to furnish the city water below cost, will be taken care of by us. In case the city accepts this proposition, we will cancel, or turn over to the city of Xenia back bills for water rent against the city from March 25, 1917 to January 1, 1919, amounting to $13,637.51. Bills against the board of education amounting to $2,147.09; private back water bills amounting to about $10,000 and bills at the advanced rate against the city of Xenia to January 1, 1920, at which time we figure the deal could be consummated, amounting to about $9,000.00.

CARRIER PIGEON BRINGS TIDINGS OF ENGAGEMENT

Borne on the wing of a pretty little carrier pigeon was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Nelle Chambliss, charming daughter of Mrs. Norman deR. Whitehouse.

Mrs. Norman deR. Whitehouse, suffragist leader and distributor of American propaganda in Germany, has sailed for Europe to assist in circulating propaganda at the Peace Conference. Mrs. Whitehouse will represent the Committee on Public Information while abroad.

or a total of $34,784.50, which would leave the actual consideration the difference between $290,000.00 and $34,784.60 or $255,215.40."

The discussion of a new water supply was opened by P. H. Flynn, chairman of the Business Club Committee, and this subject was given careful consideration the Water Company officials present being very frank in their statements regarding what their company has already done in the matter of locating a new supply. Mr. Little stated that he is convinced that the supply developed at Old Town is absolutely unsuited and he said he was sure that the best and most economical way to get water would be to take it from the river and treat it as is done in Cincinnati. Health officials are unanimous in their opinion that river water properly treated is much more preferable than any other water. The development of a new supply of water, however, need not enter to any great extent in the negotiations for the Water Company plant as it really makes no difference whether the new supply is developed and paid for under private ownership or public ownership. In the end the money for the improvement must come from the pockets of the citizens as they are the sole and only users of the water.

In short, the advocates of public ownership point out that the advantage to the city is embodied in the fact that the city can operate the plant at a cost of at least $11,500 less than a private company can operate it. The Water Company desires to sell for the reason that under no condition can it make more than 6% on its investment under the present laws, and it runs the chance of making nothing, as has been the case in the past three or four years. If the Water Company succeeds in reducing expenses to such an extent that a return of more than 6 per cent profit is netted, the Utilities Commission immediately cuts down the water rate. Therefore, there is no incentive to own the company or to invest more money in its improvement.

The reason for the loss sustained by the company in recent years was admitted by several men present to be due to the fact that the old franchise was entirely too low. The same men said the present charge to the city is too high.

City Solicitor Finney made a splendid explanation of the legal phase of the transaction and pointed out that under a recent law the city might take over the plant and sell bonds secured by first mortgage on the plant to pay for it. This would not involve the tax payers and would not require a vote of the people.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chambliss, of West Second street, to Ervin Swindler, of this city, which was given out Thursday night.

The clever and original announcement was the feature event of a "kiddies party" given by Miss Chambliss at her home and at which twenty-five girls, principally from the Bell Telephone Exchange, where Miss Chambliss is employed, were present. The little carrier pigeon, bearing under its wing the tiny card which announced the betrothal, was released among the crowd of girls by Mrs. Myrtle Van Pelt, and Miss Zella Buck was the first to catch it as it flew about the room and read the contents of the announcement to the guests. Miss Chambliss and Mr. Swindler are both popular young people and much interest is manifested in the announcement. The date of the wedding has not yet been given out.

Guests at the party were dressed as little girls and this idea was carried out in the refreshments which included brick ice cream and cake and "allday suckers" and which were served to the guests while they sat on the floor. Games and music were enjoyed and Miss Irene Robinette was awarded first prize for writing the best original poem while Miss Lucy Genier received the booby prize. When the pigeon bearing its message was released Miss Ruth Williams played a wedding march and the lights were lowered. Favours of little wax pipes decorated with hearts were presented the guests.

The bride to be was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Myrtle Van Pelt.

LENINE ARRIVES IN BARCELONA

London, Jan. 17.—Nikolai Lenin, Russian premier, has arrived in Barcelona, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Madrid, today.

No previous reports have indicated that Lenin even contemplated leaving Russia, and the above dispatch has no confirmation from any source.

GERMANS MUST SPEED UP DELIVERY OF WAR MATERIALS

German officers, with white flags, passing through American lines to deliver war materials to Yanks.

When the allied armistice commission grants another extension of the armistice time limit it is stated that it will demand that the Germans speed up delivery of railroad equipment and war materials.

Delivery of these has been very slow. The picture shows a scene common along the line held by the allied armies of occupation. German officers, carrying white flags, are passing through the American lines to deliver war materials. The bitter feeling the German soldiers were supposed to have against the Yanks, according to the ex-kaiser's press agents, isn't apparent here.

MEXICO WON'T SELL LOWER CALIFORNIA TO UNITED STATES

(Copyright, 1919, by United Press)

San Francisco, Jan. 17.—The Mexican people will never consent to sell Lower California to the United States.

Gov. Esteban Cantau, of Baja (Lower) California, today telegraphed that statement to the United Press.

THIRTY EIGHT STATES SWING INTO DRY RANKS

Washington, Jan. 17.—Thirty-eight states having ratified the national prohibition amendment, dry leaders here today were hopeful that the final vote would stand 47 for and one against.

Two "dry" states are yet to vote and eight "wet." Seven of the latter, the drys believe, will act favorably. New Jersey is the only state that the drys concede.

To congress goes the task of deciding just how sick America must be under the amended constitution to get such a stimulant. Drys here refuse to take seriously the wets' technical fight on the amendment.

"BUDDY" OF JOHN WRIGHT WRITES TO LATTER'S PARENTS

"Your boy and me tied up as pals the day we enlisted in Cincinnati, and ever since we were for each other strong," wrote Private Alexander Short, of the Marines, in a letter to Deputy Probate Judge S. C. Wright. The lad was writing from the army hospital at Brooklyn, where he is recovering from his fourth operation for a shot in the lung which was received June 23.

He hadn't heard anything from Sergeant John Wright, his "buddy," since the date he was wounded, and he wrote to Mr. Wright in an effort to learn something about the lad who was with him through the hard part of the early fighting in which the Marines distinguished themselves. They went "over the top" together the first time June 6, Private Short said. "That boy of yours is not any skinker at fighting, either," proudly wrote the wounded lad, who is only 18 years old.

Mr. Wright will answer the boy's letter immediately, and tell him that his "buddy" went through the fighting unscathed, and is with the army of occupation.

GREATEST POLITICAL BATTLE OF MODERN TIMES IS BEING FOUGHT

By Lowell Mellett.

Paris, Jan. 17.—The greatest political battle of modern times was being fought out here today—in secret. This struggle centered on the Russian situation. Its outcome was believed to hinge largely on the result of the newspaper correspondents' fight for publicity of the peace proceedings.

The general question at stake was the right of a people to self determination. The specific question was the application of this vital principle to Russia. This matter was being discussed alongside the problem of open or secret diplomacy. If the correspondents win their fight for admission to the conference, the nature of the other big conflict will soon become apparent.

Some inkling of the situation was given to America by the United Press recently, when it revealed the fact that the peace delegates were divided as to whether a fair inquiry should be made into Russian affairs, with present Russian government.

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS IS ADVOCATED BY SENATOR KENYON

Washington, Jan. 17.—A conference of governors here to work out plans with the department of labor for putting the growing army of the unemployed to work at once, was proposed today by Senator Kenyon.

Kenyon and some other members of congress are alarmed at the rapid increase of unemployment and lack of any effective government plan for providing work.

There is no lack of ideas in congress creating jobs in the future but how to supply work now is the problem worrying legislators.

"I am going to suggest to the department of labor that the governors of states be urged to attend either in person or through representatives a conference with department officials to work out some means for putting to work at once the more than 200,000 men who according to my information are jobless in the United States today," said Kenyon.

"If the states will begin an emergency program of work at once or as soon as weather conditions will permit, it may be possible to prevent untold sufferings. Most of the state legislatures are now in session and could provide necessary authority for emergency work."

Congress is being urged on every hand to come to grips with this problem, which reports to members show is rapidly becoming acute.

CALL ON GERMAN PEOPLE TO UNITE

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau, in his first public statement, today called upon the German people to unite, that their peace representatives may offer a stable government as the country's contribution to the league of nations.

"We accepted President Wilson's fourteen points, including the league of nations, was based for the construction of the world," he said. "We will stand by it with all our idealism. We want a final victory for the democracy of the world."

Helmut Topfer, a Stettin merchant, has been appointed to a position in the foreign office. The newspapers hail his appointment as evidence of the government's new policy.

view to offering consideration whether the conference should set or the assumption that the situation is exactly as has been painted by hostile propagandists and that investigation is unnecessary. Further inkling came when the French socialist newspaper Humanite picked out of the air (this is literally possible in these wireless days) the text of Foreign Minister Pichon's response to Great Britain's proposal for at least partial recognition of the soviet governments, revealing an evident effort to use the old method of secret diplomacy to dispose of matters as vital as the Russian situation.

It was explained today that the matter of sending an allied commission to investigate Russian conditions is being held in abeyance because of the illness of Colonel House. This is only part of the reason. The other part is the sudden realization in certain quarters that such a move would mean at least partial revolution of the be made into Russian affairs, with present Russian government.

ARMISTICE EXTENDED ANOTHER MONTH

Paris, Jan. 17.—The armistice with several important clauses added, has been extended for a month, it was officially announced today.

"Following the conference at Treves, between Marshal Foch and the German delegates, the armistice conventions were prolonged for a month," the statement said. "Clauses concerning agricultural material, Russian war prisoners, naval conditions and the recuperation of material taken from the invaded districts were signed."

BORAH ASSAILS SECRET DIPLOMACY

Washington, Jan. 17.—Secret diplomacy in any form was assailed today before the senate by Senator Borah. Idaho. He declared the senate "should let the American peace delegation know that the great majority of the American people are dead against secret sessions of the peace conference or anything bottling up the news from Versailles."

Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—The Wisconsin legislature today completed its ratification of the National Dry Amendment when the house voted 58 to 39. Senate ratified two days ago.

QUESTION OF REPRESENTATION OF PEOPLE THROUGH NEWSPAPERS AT PEACE TABLE BEING DISCUSSED

By Fred S. Ferguson.

Paris, Jan. 17.—The question of representation for the people themselves, through the newspaper correspondents, today took precedence over every other problem before the peace conference.

Importance of this matter was evidenced by the fact that the league of nations, the Russian situation and other vital subjects had been subordinated to arriving at an armistice solution of the manner in which the proceedings at the peace table are to be made public.

President Wilson is understood to be leading the fight for one of his principle points—"open covenants of peace, openly arrived at." He brought up the question of publicity during both yesterday's and Wednesday's conference. There was every indication today that a satisfactory agreement would be soon reached, between the correspondents and the peace delegates. A program containing the newspaper's demands regarding publicity will be submitted by a committee composed of three representatives of each of the American, British, French and Italian correspondents and two representatives of the other sections of the allied press.

Owing to the great number of correspondents here, full representation is impossible. The only question of discussion is the man of representation and the number to be admitted to the conferences. The Americans desire ten representatives at each meeting. The three press associations would be permanently represented while the other seven places would be filled by the panel system, the special correspondents rotating day by day so that all would have a first hand view and hearing of the conference.

Resolutions of a similar tone adopted by both the British and Americans were read at a general meeting of the correspondents. The British, however, recommended to Premier Lloyd George that only one press representative be admitted to all the conferences, designating Sir George Riddle. The Americans resolution did not mention the number of the personnel, but in addition to seeking the fullest possible admission the resolutions also provided for no restriction regarding news or criticisms and no restrictions regarding seeing the delegates. The conferees were represented at the correspondents' meeting by Riddle and Ray Stannard Baker attached to the British and American committees.

LIEBKNECHT AND ROSA LUXEMBURG ARE MURDERED

London, Jan. 17.—Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg have been killed, an official dispatch from Berlin announced today.

The dispatch added that the persons who committed the murders will be severely punished. Several arrests have been made.

Berlin, Jan. 16.—Karl Liebknecht, the most dramatic figure in Germany was shot dead while trying to escape from a heavy escort of government troops it was learned today. At the same time his chief lieutenant Rosa Luxemburg was lynched by a mob.

The spartan leader, who fell just short of overthrowing the new German government by a country wide revolution was trapped in his home and taken prisoner with his wife and sons. The latter were taken to a jail Liebknecht himself was being escorted to military headquarters. The automobile in which he was riding broke down. The party proceeded on foot. Liebknecht suddenly drew a knife, stabbed one of the guards and fled.

The guards flung their rifles to their shoulders and fired. Liebknecht fell dead, riddled with bullets. Rosa Luxemburg met death at the hands of a mob. The details have not yet been definitely learned, but it is known that he was beaten into insensibility by a maddened crowd and then thrown into the Landwehr canal.

The government issued an official statement today announcing that the "murderers" of Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg will be "severely punished." It is known that several persons have been arrested in this connection.

WOMEN MAKE GOOD ON THE RAILROAD

Washington, Jan. 17.—Woman has made good in her new field of labor—railroading. Although she gained her standing through war labor shortage, she will be hard to displace.

After a year's trial of the 102,296 of her, W. S. Carter, director of the division of labor of the railroad administration, reported "she has proved her value." Carter says that in general women desire to retain their places as "railroaders," sharing equally with men all privileges and responsibilities.

CALLED ON TO SAVE

Washington, Jan. 17.—Secretary Glass today called upon all America to begin its 1919 saving. It's a good day to start, Glass said, because 213 years ago today, Benjamin Franklin, the apostle of thrift, was born. Franklin's picture appears on the 1919 war savings stamps, so today was set aside by the treasury department for launching the 1919 drive for the sale of war savings and thrift stamps.

BIJOU.
While "He Comes Up Smiling" is not from the pen of that able scenario artist, Anita Loos, as most of Douglas Fairbanks' vehicles are, still it has the same charm of lively action and quick comedy situation that lives up to the Fairbanks standard. The picture, which is at the Bijou theater Friday and Saturday, is from the farce written by Byron Ongle and Emil Myray, and is a dramatization of the novel by Charles Sherman. In the five reels of action it presents more delightful comedy situations than it would be thought possible to crowd into that short space, and the picture is a laugh producer from the beginning to the end.

GALLOWAY & CHERRY

It is with deep sorrow and regret that we record the death of Donald Dakin, youngest son of J. H. and Carrie Dakin, who was born April 15, 1902, and passed away Dec. 8, 1918, aged 16 years, seven months and 23 days. In early childhood he was taught to love and attend Sunday school and church, and he was a firm believer in the guidance of God's Holy Spirit, as taught by the Society of Friends. During his sickness, he frequently was heard in prayer, and asked his parents to pray for him. We see the aged passing on beyond, but it seems extremely sad for the young, with their hopes and ambitions of the future all before them, to meet death's reaper so early in life.

Jesus while our hearts are bleeding, O'er the spoils that death has won, We would at this solemn meeting Calmly say, "Thy will be done."

Though cast down, we're not forsaken, Though afflicted, not alone. Thou didst give and thou hast taken. Blessed Lord, thy will be done. F. E. H.

Discovery of Rubber.
The rubber tree was discovered by a Jesuit missionary, Father Mamele Esperanza. He found it while on one of his apostolic journeys among the Cambebas Indians of South America and gave it the singular name of the seringueira, because he remarked that the savages used the sap of this tree which hardens quickly, to make rubber bottles that were shaped like a syringe.

Wealth of Africa.
The wealth of the resources of Africa is thought equal to any two of the other continents of the world. For instance, she has "800,000 square miles of coal fields, 95,000,000 acres of fertile farm lands, iron ore equal to five times the output of North America, 90 per cent of the world's diamonds, $10,000,000 worth of rubber each year, and uncounted millions in ivory, nuts and oil, copper and gold."

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

A suit was filed in the Dayton Common Pleas court yesterday morning in which the city of Dayton, through the Water works trustees, seeks to recover $25,000 damages from the People's Railway Co., which operates a railway line through that city for alleged ruin of water pipes by electrolysis.

Little Things.
The most important and vital things of life are thought out in quiet, and it is often the apparently little things that are most vital. Tired, harassed mothers—stop to realize for a moment that you will not forever be lending, toiling, ministering to your little ones; they soon outgrow the need, and then your hands and hearts are so empty! Do you quietly think enough to understand how fully you are "serving," in the biggest sense of the word, when you are fitting these little ones for life?

YOU MEN WHO PAY THE FAMILY SHOE BILLS

Tramping 18 miles a day, Mr. H. M. Foreman, a mail carrier of Allentown, Pa., found that shoes with ordinary soles last about one month. But he says a pair of Neolin-soled shoes gave him more than nine months of service, in which time he walked over 4,000 miles.

His experience shows how you may save shoe money by providing your family with Neolin-soled shoes, which give extra wear where other shoes wear out quickest. You can get Neolin-soled shoes in any type of shoe you want. Neolins are about the same as for shoes that give only ordinary wear, sometimes they are even less. If your dealer hasn't the style you want, he can get it for you quickly. Remember, Neolin Soles are created by science to be what soles should be. They are available everywhere for re-soles as well as on new shoes. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

"For six years we have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in our family and feel we could not possibly do without it, especially for the children." (From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mrs. Earl Cowell, Cement City, Mich.)

Children become constipated as readily as do their elders, and the result is equally distressing. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for children because of its pleasant taste, positive, yet gentle, action, and its freedom from opiates and narcotic drugs.

JOSHUA OGLESBEE FORMER TREASURER OF COUNTY, DEAD

Joshua P. Oglesbee, prominent Greene countian and former treasurer of the county, passed away at his home on West Third street, in this city, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. His death was due to a complication of ills, from which he had been suffering for several years.

Mr. Oglesbee was born November 23, 1834, at Paintersville, and was thus 84 years of age at the time of his death. He was the son of Jonathan and Hannah Oglesbee. He says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

This excellent, common-sense
adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

spent his early life in Paintersville, and for a time clerked in a dry goods store there. He was married to Miss Hannah Smith, June 10, 1855, and last June they celebrated the 63rd anniversary of their marriage.

During the latter part of the Civil War, Mr. Oglesbee enlisted and served for about four months before the war ended.

He was a prominent farmer and stock buyer all his life, but entered public life in 1892, when he was elected county treasurer. Mr. Oglesbee served two terms in the office, and then following his retirement, was called to act as deputy treasurer under the regime of John A. Nisbet. Mr. Oglesbee had retired from active life a number of years ago and since that time made his home in this city.

He was a member of the Methodist church all his life, being affiliated with the First M. E. Church in this city. He was also a member of the Odd Fellows and Lewis Post, G. A. R.

Besides his wife, who survives him, the nearest living relatives are his two nieces, Miss Millie Johnson of this city, and Mrs. L. E. Oldham of south of Xenia, and his nephew, Theodore Johnson of this city. There were no children, and his two brothers and sisters preceded him in death.

Some time before his death, Mr. Oglesbee had given instructions concerning his burial, and appointed his own pall bearers, and these instructions will be carried out.

The funeral services will be held Monday morning.

Friends may call at the home from 3 until 6 Sunday afternoon.

No Need To Be Thin, Scrawny or Sallow

It's Only Because the Stomach Doesn't Furnish Enough Nourishment to the Body.

If you are thin and want to be plump, if you have wrinkles in your face that you are not proud of, if the skin is sallow or subject to pimples or blackheads take Mi-o-na stomach tablets for two weeks and notice the change.

The majority of the thin people are thin because the stomach does not perform its duties properly. It is not secreting sufficient of the natural digestive juices and in consequence does not extract from the food enough nutritive matter to nourish every part of the body. When the stomach does not do its work properly, the nourishment in the food you eat is not extracted and passes through the body without leaving any flesh building elements.

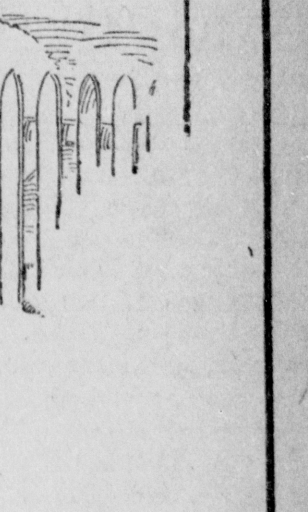

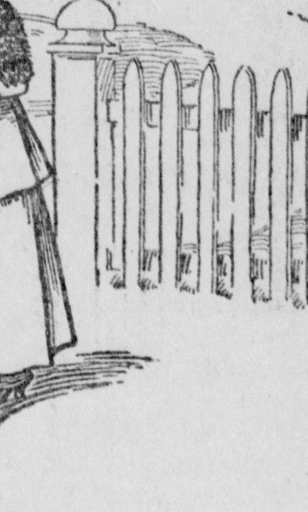

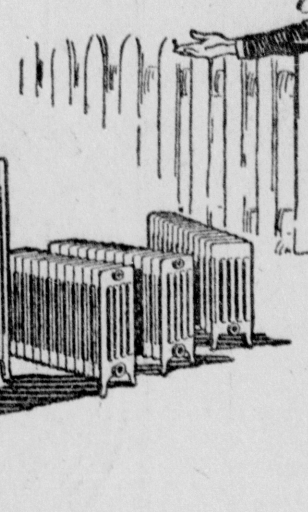

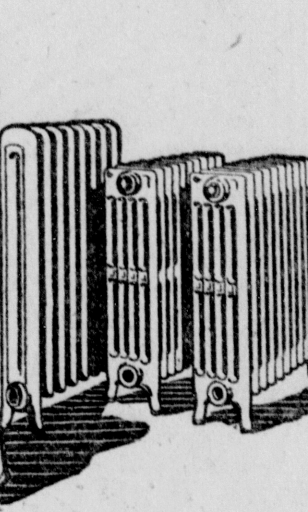

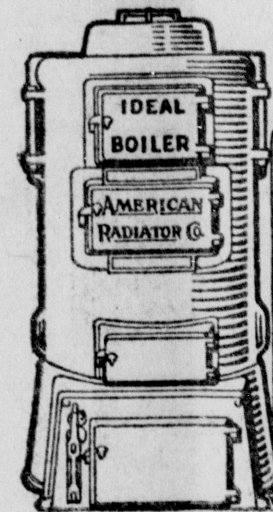

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are intended to build up the stomach so that it will act properly and extract from the food all elements necessary to form good, solid flesh.

If you are thin, try two weeks treatment of Mi-o-na stomach tablets—they are small, easily swallowed and have made many friends by their proven value.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold on the guarantee of money back if they do not overcome indigestion, acute or chronic, stop stomach disturbances, belching, heartburn, sour stomach, and any after dinner distress.

DIVORCE SUIT COMES AS ECHO OF AUTO SMASH

Echoes of the automobile accident on the Dayton pike last May, when ex-Senator M. A. Broadstone and Attorney J. K. Williamson were seriously hurt and the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Findley M. Torrence and their baby daughter endangered came from Troy, in a $10,000 suit for alienation of a wife's affections, brought against Clarence Miller by Ira N. Pilkington of West Milton.

Miller was the driver of the big car which crashed into the Torrence car in which the Xenians were riding near Alpha. Every effort to conceal the identity of the occupants of the automobile which caused the nearly fatal accident was made at the time, and the names of the joy riders were suppressed, information being withheld from the newspapers. The following dispatch from Troy concerning the damage suit mentions the accident:

Ira N. Pilkington, of West Milton, filed a $10,000 damage suit against Clarence Miller of the same village, for the alienation of the affections of the plaintiff's wife, according to the allegations made in the petition.

Mr. Pilkington, who is a plumber and conducts a general hardware tin and plumbing store in West Milton, states in his petition that he was married December 25, 1915, in Union township and they lived happily together until December 16, 1918, when she left him.

The plaintiff says that Clarence Miller, the defendant, is a married man in the village of West Milton and resides in the neighborhood of the plaintiff. The plaintiff states that his wife assisted him in the store before she became infatuated with the defendant who alienated her affections.

Mr. Pilkington charges that in February, 1918, the defendant began to take the former's wife to Arcanum at night and that there they drank beer and would remain out late at night. The petition then states that on May 3, 1918, his wife met Miller in Dayton and they started on a joy ride for Xenia, but enroute they had an automobile collision in which Mrs. Pilkington was badly injured so she had to remain in Dayton from Friday until the following Thursday, during which time Miller is alleged to have sent her flowers. The plaintiff says that on various times his wife and Miller were joy riding on the roads between West Milton and Dayton and Arcanum.

The husband claims that at all times he has provided for his wife and has been a dutiful husband.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns
Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FRANCE'S SONS WIN UNDYING GLORY

No other nation has spilled its blood more freely than democracy might live than has France. Her sons have sacrificed more of blood and of treasure than those of any other nation. The world owes France a debt of gratitude not only for this, but for a perfect remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal disorders which, it is said, has saved thousands of lives the world over. The ingredients are imported and placed on sale in America under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy by Geo. H. Mayr, for years a leading Chicago chemist. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere. adv

NEW TERM OF "FREEDOM OF THE SEAS."

Ever since the signing of the Armistice, which may be said to be the real time of commencement of peace talk, one of the scare-crow bugaboos which seemed to stand in the way of the formation of a "League of Nations" has been the "Freedom of the Seas" as advocated by President Wilson.

It has been a forgone conclusion that England would never agree to surrender her very life existence, her navy—and this has been thought to be an insurmountable bar to Mr. Wilson's proposal, as it was generally understood.

But during President Wilson's visit to England, and his conferences with her leading statesmen, it now turns out that all Mr. Wilson demands for his "Freedom of the Seas" plank is that in peace as well as in war there shall be joint international control over the rules of the sea, calculated to insure free and equal treatment for the shipping and traders of all nations. And to this, it is claimed, England will not object.

The aim, in this view of the case, is that the police power of the "League of Nations" would see to it that no one nation shall be able to blockade the ports of another, as Germany did those of England during the war, threatening death and destruction to any who tried to run the blockade.

Of course the only time at which a blockade is necessary is in time of war, and hence the clause would have no effect if we shall be wise enough to make the world bone-dry of war in our new heaven and new earth paradise to which we are aspiring.

What Germany did in its blockade of England, and in its frightfulness the seas over, is a tale which should be a record of something done in the dark ages rather than in this christian era—a record of the most shameful human butchery of innocent, unoffending men, women and children that the world has ever known.

If then it is possible to have an international agency that will be able to give Peace to the world, on land and sea, on the plan invented by President Wilson, surely coming generations will accord to him a mead of praise as a great benefactor of mankind.

SAVE YOUR BREATH.

Not every irate or petulant query calls for a response. Often to prepare an elaborate and final rejoinder, though we have the material for the crushing retort ready to our hand, is only to answer a fool according to his folly.

Before we explain or apologize or return even the soft answer to the offended one, let us ask ourselves if it is worth while.

Suppose that men high in public station stopped to tell everybody the reason for everything. They could accomplish no public business. They would have to spend all their time in debate and extenuation. The reason-seeker is almost as much of a nuisance as the office-seeker.

Nearly everybody in the United States, it would seem, is moved sooner or later to present a remonstrance or memorandum to the President about something.

He is our President, whether we voted for him or not. Therefore we have a right to him. We do not stop to count the number of those who might assume the same right.

In lesser degree all those who are in positions of authority are victimized—if they have no established defenses—by those who are dissatisfied. It is a healthy symptom that the body politic is so free to find fault with its leaders. But a good deal of the time the grievance is not well founded. It is presented by those whose delight it is to make trouble.

The men who have their work in the world to do will bow their heads in silence (or stand stiffly, it may be) and let the storm blow over. When all the little fellows have had their say, the work endures. It was not worth while to answer them.

Odd Foods.

Lizards and alligators are the latest propositions in the way of food variety. They do not seem very alluring to the United States appetites, yet lizards have been extremely popular in the Bahama Islands, and Florida alligators have a reputation of being quite delicious.

RAVENS, ANCIENT AND MODERN.

The airplane is supposed to be something strictly new and up-to-date, something that one could report to friends in heaven with real pride, if summoned about now. But in the light of ancient history it seems possible that pride is once more of the destruction-breeding quality.

Probably if the Prophet Elijah happened to be hanging around and heard the account of these Winged Victories and their prowess, including the fact that they carried food to soldiers in places not otherwise accessible, he would say, "Oh yes, we had them 'way back in my day, only we called them ravens."

"THE WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

RUTH REVIEWS HER LIFE WITH BRIAN.

CHAPTER CXLIII.

Ruth tossed uneasily all night long. But when morning broke she had come to no decision regarding Mollie King, how to prevent her coming to Brian. Insensibly she realized that Mollie felt free to come to him because of their experience overseas, and also because she could come as nurse—in a sense.

Brian had seemed so happy to know she was back. It could mean but one thing: that he was still interested in her, if not in love. So Ruth thought, and so was miserable. "Oh, dear, the world's all wrong!" she sighed as she tried to put Mollie from her mind and failed. That she might be wrong, and the world right, never seemed to occur to her. What she did was for the comfort of all. Why couldn't Brian see it?

At breakfast he was still in a happy mood, while Ruth was, if anything, growing hourly more miserable. Neither was it entirely due to thoughts of Mollie King. In some way, she was beginning to feel that she must be in the wrong. That she had not been able to hold him—make him happy—proved it.

Yet in what had she failed? Surely she had done all any wife could do and more. She had been true and faithful; she had worked to make them comfortable—so she pretended to herself; she had never cared for anyone but Brian; and now he—she—were neither of them happy.

It was harder to leave him with that expectant look on his face, than it had been the day before when he had almost sulked. Yet, even so, it again was not entirely because of Mollie King; it was the feeling that she, his wife, had in some way failed him. Failed the man, the soldier whose fearlessness had brought him recognition.

Had she failed him? And in what way?

There was in Ruth a vein of sentiment, a love of romance, which she had suppressed. There had been, too, a lack of sympathetic understanding, especially of Brian's viewpoint. That he, too, was full of romance, sentiment, and had hidden it from her to a great degree because of his feeling that she cared more for her work than for him, she had no way of knowing. So they had stumbled on, from almost the very first.

If Brian and Ruth could have talked over things calmly, quietly dissecting their differences, each trying to get the other's viewpoint, there might have been a different story to tell. But Brian's impatience, what Ruth called his "determined unreasonableness" had prevented this, in fact had made it impossible. Not that Ruth was not stubborn, too—she was. Yet they might have avoided a great deal of useless clashing, so much useless unhappiness, had they each really tried to see things as the other saw them.

All that morning at the shop Ruth was distraught, her mind with Brian, instead of on her work. She had left him "primping," as he called it, getting ready for Mollie's promised visit.

Slowly she walked home to have luncheon with her husband. She passed several soldiers, some of them bearing marks of the battles through which they had passed, a leg or an arm missing. But every one had a clean, straight-forward look in their eyes, the look Brian had when he first came home—a look so different from the one he had when he told her he would not invite Major Williams to dinner—because of her, her work. She recalled how bitter was his tone when he said that "over there, those fellows thought him a man." She also recalled (albeit it had not impressed her at the time) the convulsive way his hand had closed over his cross.

Poor Brian. Why wouldn't he be sensible? Then as she neared home there rushed over her a desire to give up everything and be to him all that he wanted her to be. To win this soldier-husband back!

Not one thought of Mollie King came to her as she walked along. Not one feeling of resentment against Brian. She only grasped the one vital thing; Brian was her husband, she his wife; yet she was losing him again. That was the way she felt about it. She had lost him before he went away. When he came back to her and she had nursed him, she felt he was hers once more. Now she had that terrible feeling again that he had gone from her.

She rushed into the room where he sat, and, throwing her arms about him, she said:

"You do love me, don't you, Brian? Tell me you love me better than anyone on earth." Then she burst into a flood of tears which frightened him. He drew her head upon his breast, over the cross, and with loving words he quieted her, assuring her of his love.

"Mollie didn't come," he told her after a time. "She telephoned it was impossible. She is still under orders, you know."

To-morrow—Ruth Confides In Her Employer.

Small Things Once Precious.

In the reign of Henry VIII, a needle was so valuable a thing that an English comedy was written about the loss of one. In the reign of Queen Elizabeth, a pair of gloves were held to be a fitting gift for the sovereign. Henry IV of France, a poor and a frugal monarch, committed one extravagance, which was commented upon by the court and noted down in Sully's memoirs. He used as many handkerchiefs as he required when he had a cold in his head.

If no light burns when the engine is running the fault may be a combination of one of the following reasons: Circuits connected with the battery are short circuited, which also short circuits the generator, or there may be an open circuit between the battery and the generator. There may be no voltage generated by the generator which may be due to a dirty or roughened commutator. The brushes may be stuck in the holders and are not making contact with the commutator or the brushes may not be fitted to the surface of the commutator or no pressure on the brushes so as to hold them on the commutator. WEAK, DISCOURAGED WIFE

Advised by Friends to Try Vinol—What It Did For Her.

Florence, S. C.—"I was in a weak, nervous, rundown condition, took cold easily, could hardly keep around and do my work—and was all discouraged. I had taken cough syrups and tonics without benefit, until a friend asked me to try Vinol—I gained rapidly by its use, so I am now in good health."—Mrs. Addie Wilkerson.

The reason Vinol was so successful in restoring Mrs. Wilkerson to health, is because it is a constitutional remedy, which enriches and revitalizes the blood and creates strength. Sayre & Hemphill, and Druggists Everywhere.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Liniment

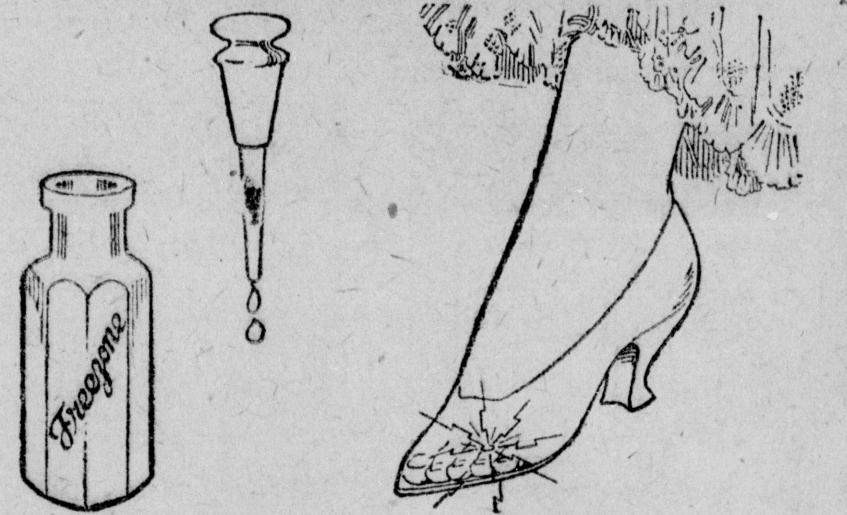

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

of purest cod liver oil, absolutely free from alcohol, is mother's true friend, in that it performs a two-fold duty. Scott's is tonic-nourishment, particularly fitted for the trying period of motherhood.

BRAVE YOUNG VETERAN OF WORLD WAR IS VISITING IN XENIA AND TELLS INTERESTING STORY OF EXPERIENCES

Nine months service overseas with the famous "Diamond" or Fifth Division, gassed three times and wearing three Divisional citations for bravery, and finally back safe in this country, is the record of Herschel Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood, of Eaton, Indiana, and a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Thompson, of this city. He is spending a five day furlough from Camp Sherman here.

Courage, pluck and an ambition to get across the big pond and see some action played a big part in the career of young Wood, whose Division, the fighting Fifth, was one of the first to go across. At the time this Division was training for overseas service, at Camp Greene, S. C., he was employed in the great DuPont Powder Plant in New Jersey, with a clear claim for exemption. Previous to this he had served a period of enlistment with the Coast Artillery.

When Wood learned that the Fifth was due to go across within a very short while, he passed up all attempts to free him from the service, and by appealing to his draft board was permitted to join the line outfit at Camp Greene. He was a member of the 60th Inf. Reg., a regular army unit. The outfit left Camp Merritt,

SAYS COLD WEATHER BRINGS RETURN OF INFLUENZA

Public Must Be Careful To Avoid A Second Epidemic, Easier To Prevent Than Cure. What To Do.

"Encouraging reports of the fewer cases of influenza in this vicinity should not allow us to relax our vigilance or to become careless in the belief that the danger is all over," says a well known authority. With the coming of cold weather there is apt to be a return of this epidemic and its seriousness will depend on the extent of the precautions, taken by the public to prevent infection. When the air is full of influenza germs, you may be constantly breathing them into your nose and throat. But their danger is avoided and you may make yourself practically immune to infection if you destroy the germ before it actually begins work in your blood.

During the recent serious epidemic, which hit Xenia so hard, most successful results were obtained by many through the simple use of the medicated air of oil of Hyomei. Probably no better, safer or more sensible precaution against influenza, Grippes, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis or Catarrh of the nose and throat could be employed than to go now to the nearest drug store and get a complete Hyomei outfit consisting of a bottle of the pure hard rubber inhaling device into which a few drops of the oil are poured. During the day and each half hour or so put it in your mouth and draw deep breaths of its pure healing germicidal air into your passages of your nose, throat and lungs to destroy the germs that may have found lodgement there. This simple precaution may save you a serious illness and the loss of several weeks work. It is pleasant to use and not at all expensive as the inhaler will last a lifetime and further supplies of the Oil of Hyomei can be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Hundreds of people in this vicinity used Hyomei in this way during the recent crisis and avoided danger. They should not neglect it now for the danger is by no means over. adv

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man? A well woman? What wouldn't you give? Worse cases than yours, are yielding as if by magic to its subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer. 25 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if they would only confess to a friend, family, or better, a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results--you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment? Remember, all the wishing, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years experience.

Established in Cincinnati 25 years. No operations. Lady attendants.

April 15 and arrived in Liverpool April 28, going from there to Southampton. On the way across the water the convoy of ships ran athwart a German submarine and made short work of it. From Southampton the outfit went direct to Bordeaux, thence to Vivieres and straight into the Vosges Mountains, where it got its baptism of fire at the hands of the late lamented Persian Guards. It was in the mountains that young Wood first was gassed and he came out of the mountains to the hospital sick. He was in the hospital three weeks and they were preparing to move him to Casual Camp when Wood learned that his outfit was passing through the town at that time, and by running off he rejoined the unit and continued with them to take up a new sector in the Vosges.

The Fifth Division, with Wood in it, was thrown in against the Boche in the memorable St. Mihiel drive shortly after that, the Division having come out of the mountains. The Division took 2,500 prisoners in this one drive.

Following the St. Mihiel controversy the Fifth came out of the front lines for replacements and having been reinforced went back in the big scrap in the Argonne Forest, one of the most memorable of the battle sectors of war-ridden France. It was here that the "Diamond" outfit fought its biggest battle of the war, known as the Midline farm battle on the Meuse river. Twice in the St. Mihiel sector, the Division was cited for bravery, and two little gold bars on the sleeve of young Wood are records of this citation. Another gold bar on the other sleeve is for a citation for bravery received by the Division in the Argonne Woods, proving that the outfit acquitted itself admirably on every occasion under fire.

"The Yanks were simply too full of pep," says Wood. "They wouldn't stay hid and you couldn't keep them down. They were too impetuous for their own good." An example of this was shown clearly by Private Wood's own personal experience. He was gassed the second time in the St. Mihiel sector and, as fate would have it, the third time the Hun reached him with the poisonous gas was just thirty minutes before the armistice was signed.

"It was my own fault," explained Private Wood. "We had gotten wind that it was going to be over soon, and a buddy of mine, said that in a little while he could start a fire. We were up near Metz then where our Artillery had in fifteen minutes destroyed a bridge it had taken the Germans fifteen years to build. In order to be ready to start fire several of us went out to gather kindling. Hostilities had not ceased and a gas shell came over, killing three men in our party and sending the other three of us to the hospital. Private Wood was just recently released from the Base Hospital at Camp Sherman because of this gas. Chlorine was the most common of the gases run into by the young soldier.

Substantiating the statements of most of the lads who have been overseas, Private Wood stated that the Boche was afraid of cold steel. He would not fight in the open, explained the young soldier, but would hurry to cover and implant machine gun nests to attempt to stop the allies when they followed. It was this dread of open fighting that worked their downfall, for after the Yanks entered the fray, they moved too fast to intrench themselves and it was all open warfare.

It was while his company was deploying before it crossed the Meuse, near the village of Dun-Sur-Meuse, that Private Wood lost a friend, who had crossed with him and fought by his side all through the war until that time. The two men were using their intrenching tools to get a little shelter when a Boche sniper, shot and killed Wood's companion. With the body of his dead friend lying beside him in the narrow shelter obtained by digging a small hole in the ground, Wood had to remain there from four o'clock one afternoon until six o'clock the next morning when they went over the top.

Cruelties said to have been practiced on French women and children by the Germans are true, according to Private Wood, who tells of seeing a little boy with his arms cut off above the elbows. The father of the lad said that when the Germans came through the mother hid the child in the cellar and fled, but the Hun found the little fellow, and cut off his arms. It was such sights as these that inspired the Allies to new spurts of endeavor. When you see one of your comrades die, it makes you want to fight just that much harder," said Private Wood.

Private Wood is wearing a service stripe, a wound stripe and three bars which stand for citations for bravery, a bar pin of the Allies colors, an overseas pin, and a big red "diamond" signifying the name of his Division. He arrived in this country shortly before Christmas and expects to get his discharge shortly after he returns to Camp Sherman. He expects to return about Sunday.

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if cross, sick, feverish, Constipated.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children, it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

NEAR EAST RELIEF TO STAND ALONE

New York.—(Special.)—President Wilson has advised the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief from Paris that his program, already presented to congress, for $100,000,000 for food supplies for Europe should in no way interfere with the plans of the Armenian Relief Committee to raise $20,000,000 by popular subscription the week of Jan. 27th for the relief and rehabilitation of persecuted Armenians and Syrians in the Near East.

"The appropriation asked of congress for handling food relief is not intended in any way to take the place of the subscription being asked for relief and rehabilitation in the Near East," President Wilson cabled to Cleveland H. Dodge, treasurer of the Armenian Relief Committee. "I hope that this subscription will not in any way be interrupted. The need is immediate and very great."

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON.

Herbert Hoover, American food administrator, also cabled from Europe, urging that the government's $100,000,000-food relief program should in no way interfere with the relief work planned by the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee in the Near East. His cablegram follows:

"The world relief program now being developed by the United States and the allies contemplates that while the bulk of the relief work to be done will be financed by the countries affected, through the medium of loans or other government assistance, nevertheless distress and suffering exists in many areas where payment for relief supplies can not be made. These charity cases will still urgently need private benevolence."

"This is the situation with regard to the Armenians. There is probably no greater suffering today than among the persecuted peoples of Asia Minor, who have no other funds and can not secure government loans and have no credit. It is to aid this distressing situation that your Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief is making its appeal to the generosity of the American people. With your financing accomplished, your committee representing these stricken people can come under the direction of the new international world relief organization and will receive its co-operation in the purchasing and shipment of supplies."

"Arrangements are now being made to assign one complete flour cargo now en route for southern Europe to the order of your committee and further supplies will shortly be allotted to you by the international committee as soon as we are assured that the necessary finances have been provided."

(Signed) HERBERT HOOVER.

These messages were cabled by President Wilson and Mr. Hoover as soon as it became evident that the general public supposed that the government's huge food relief program would supplant the work contemplated by the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee. Mr. Hoover's cablegram was received through the Federal Food Administration at Washington.

President Wilson's emphatic statement was made in response to the following cablegram sent him by Cleveland H. Dodge, treasurer of the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee:

"The campaign for $20,000,000 for relief and rehabilitation in the Near East to which you called upon the people of America to subscribe Jan. 27th is being vigorously pushed. Your request to congress for $100,000,000 interpreted by the public to mean that our campaign is unnecessary. If you want us to proceed, a definite urgent statement from you by cable absolutely necessary to success. Hope you can do this."

(Signed) "CLEVELAND H. DODGE."

Ohio's quota in the big humanitarian campaign is $1,640,000, of which more than one-half will come from war chests, and the remainder will be raised by direct appeal to Ohioans.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

This rash may become serious.

Some people are inclined to neglect a slight rash. They consider it a mere trifle and expect it to disappear next day. On the contrary this delay permits the rash often times to become more malignant in nature, and consequently more difficult to overcome and heal.

CELEBRATE VICTORY OVER BOOZE AT THE REVIVAL MEETING

The congregation last evening at the Methodist church revival meeting opened the service by celebrating the victory in the fight for a dry America, through thirty-six states having ratified the amendment to the Federal Constitution for national prohibition. "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow," was sung with the greatest enthusiasm. There was an excellent spirit of freedom and joy throughout the entire service, in the singing, the prayers and the preaching by evangelist Harney.

The sermon was based on the text: "Take ye away the stone," Jno. 11:39.

Mr. Harney said that all obstacles between Jesus and the man that is to be saved, to be raised to a new life, must be gotten out of the way. Sin must be put away. Each man has a part in his own salvation and in the redemption of his fellowman. God will not do our work. Every man is either right or he is wrong. He cannot be half way right with God. When man has done wrong he must undo the wrong so God can come into his heart and regenerate his life. The Jews who were right around the grave of Lazarus were called upon to remove the stone. So the church must prepare the way for Jesus in a revival to save life. We must not forget that men are either on the way to heaven or on the way to the pit of darkness, and whatever is in the way between Jesus and them must be gotten out of the way, whether the thing that is in the way is in the life of some church member or in the sinner's own heart. Those who are dead in sin can be saved only by obedience and church members who would have power to prepare the way for Jesus to save their children and other people must obey Jesus.

This evening a big delegation from Grace Methodist church, Springfield, is coming to the meeting. The wife of the pastor of this church, Mrs. Nash, will sing. Service at 7:15. No service Saturday evening.

Lines to Be Remembered.

The pursuit of perfection is the pursuit of sweetness and light. He who works for sweetness and light works to make reason and the will of God prevail.—Matthew Arnold.

WILL TRY TO REPEAT LAST PERFORMANCE

McKinley Junior High School's victorious basketball team will try to repeat its performance of Wednesday evening when it will meet Cedarville Junior High at Cedarville Friday night. The West Market street lads are expecting no little opposition from the Cedarville crowd but feel that after handling Alpha so deftly Wednesday night that they will not have much difficulty with the opposition Friday night.

The game will be one of three basketball contests staged in Cedarville Friday night. Cedarville College meets Wilmington College for the second time this season, the first occasion being a decided victory for the Greene County quintet. Cedarville High School will meet Wilmington High School as a preliminary to the college affair, and if the Cedarville lads play anything like they have been in the county tournaments recently they should make the Quaker combination step some as the latter is woefully weak this year.

World's Oldest University.

The oldest university in the world is at Peking. It is called the "School for the Sons of the Empire." Its antiquity is great, and a grand register consisting of 320 stone columns, is reputed to contain the names of 60,000 graduates.

How Cabinet Has Grown.
George Washington had only five cabinet officers—a secretary of state, a secretary of the treasury, a secretary of war, a postmaster general and an attorney general. A secretary of the navy was added under John Adams, a secretary of the interior under Taylor and a secretary of agriculture under Cleveland. The department of commerce and labor was created in 1903, under Roosevelt, and the department of labor was made separate under Wilson in 1913.

Give it in Time

Every mother knows that coughs and colds, neglected, may lead to the most dread diseases. Croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption often have their beginning in a slight cold.

The wise mother gives Foley's Honey and Tar
at the first signs of a cough or cold. She knows it stops coughs quickly, puts a soothing, healing coating on an inflamed and tickling throat, and gives a feeling of warmth and comfort to the sufferer. Mrs. M. E. Schlarb, Ashland, Penn., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough and cold remedy I have ever tried. When my little girl gets a cold on her chest, I give her a dose, and it relieves her right away."

Remembered Mother's Answer.

Little Harry one day asked his mother who made the trees and was told that God made them. A few days later an old colored man came to trim the trees and the little fellow, seeing him at work, ran to his mother and exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, God's out in the yard repairing his trees!"
